Sharing knowledge

POSTGRADUATE students about to embark on their research will now have an avenue to guarantee the originality of their ideas with the MyUniNet portal.

The portal hosts a network of Malaysian university libraries and the National Library, creating a one-stop centre for academic resources and information, including 18,829 records of local Masters and PhD theses.

POSTGRADUATE students undertaking research will now have an avenue to guarantee the originality of their ideas with the MyUniNet portal.

"This will boost Malaysian academia as it will foster the sharing of expertise and knowledge between public and private universities.

"It is especially beneficial for PhD students as they can ensure their research ideas have not been done before and are original," Higher Education Minister Datuk Mustapa Mohamed told reporters after launching MyUniNet at Multimedia University in Cyberjaya recently.

In addition to the theses resource called MyTO, users will have access to other resources online such as E-Repository, Malaysian Gateway Internet Resources and Union List of Serials IPTA/IPTS (MySU).

The portal is maintained by all academic libraries, which are members of a network called Conferences of University Libraries and National Library of Malaysia (Perpun).

"We always adapt to new technology and changes. Our role is to help postgraduates produce world-class research and development (R&D)," says Perpun chairman Hajah Paiza Idris.

The portal can be accessed for free at http://www.perpun.net.my

Title	:	Hybrid Medical Image Retrieval System For CT Brain Images
Year	:	2009
Faculty	:	Engineering
Type of Thesis	:	MS Thesis
Subject	:	Imaging systems in medicine; Medical instruments and apparatus
Library	:	"Siti Hasmah Digital Library, Multimedia university", MMU
Abstract	:	"This work covers a combination of text- and content-based image retrieval techniques for medical applications. By combining THIR with CBIR, the images can also be indexed by their visual content and would be retrieved based on visual similarity. All medical images are associated with textual patients metadata that stores valuable information and can be used to get specific results. For this reason, traditional text-based retrieval is still helpful and a combination of both the accuracy of the retrieved results. Hence, a system that integrates both methods is expected to be more efficient in retrieving those desired medical images."

MYUShare

PERPUN which refers to Persidangan Perpustakaan Universiti dan Negara, is a forum cooperation between all the Head of University Libraries and Director General, National Library of Malaysia. At present, there are 26 institutional members comprises of public universities, GLCs universities and Perpustakaan Negara Malaysia. PERPUN has initiated many cooperation projects on resource sharing among its members.

One of the initiatives is MYUShare, an inter-library loan system specifically caters for inter-library loan (ILL) service. ILL is a service which helps eligible patrons obtain materials that are unavailable in their library. MYUShare is a system that replaced the current manual practice of ILL. Every library under PERPUN will appoint their own administrator to have the overall control of the system. Usually, the administrator is the person-in-charge for the IT department in their library. The administrator may appoint a few librarians to be the user of the system. Librarians are the one who process and approve the ILL requests made by the library's patrons. Patrons may browse other universities' catalogues, make an online request with their local library, which, acting as an intermediary, places the request, receives the item, makes it available to the user, and arranges for its return.

Students and academic staff are eligible for the service. However, it depends on each library's policy. The librarian in-charge has the right to reject any non eligible/incomplete application. The ILL service is offered at no cost. With MyUIshare, the process time is
